We support the development of future leaders through actively involving youth between ages 10 and 18 and college students in the fight for civil rights. The NAACP DC Branch works closely with the NAACP Youth & College units in Washington, DC to foster and develop future leadership in the NAACP. Many of our youth and college members have limited finances, which restricts their ability to afford the NAACP youth membership fees. We have identified 100 youth members that are passionate about the NAACP and actively perform community service, voter registration and education programs. NAACP Youth Memberships are $15 per youth. We are requesting you make a $60 donation to sponsor 4 NAACP Youth memberships. Thank you for your consideration.

There are 7 youth chapters in Washington, DC, including:

1. Washington, DC Youth Council
2. American University NAACP College Chapter
3. Georgetown University NAACP College Chapter
4. George Washington University (GWU) NAACP College Chapter
5. Howard University NAACP College Chapter
6. Trinity NAACP College Chapter

Mission

The mission of the NAACP Youth Council and College Chapters are to inform youth of the problems affecting African Americans and to advance the economic, education, social and political status of African Americans and other racial and ethnic minorities.

Vision

The vision of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) is to ensure a society in which all individuals have equal rights and there is no racial hatred or racial discrimination.

NAACP

The NAACP believes strongly that future leaders must be developed today. Today there are more than 30,000 youth members actively involved in the fight for civil rights. The NAACP has one of the largest organized groups of young people of any secular organization in the country.

Students have always been at the forefront of most major social movements. From the Civil Rights Movement of the 60's to the anti-apartheid movement of the 1980's, student activism has forced society and the world to change. NAACP College Chapters across America are engaged in social justice activism addressing issues at the local, state and national level.

NAACP Youth Initiatives

NAACP Stop Campaign

The STOP Campaign is an initiative that seeks to "STOP" the demeaning images of African Americans in the media, particularly with respect to the portrayal of African American women.

NAACP Move-In Movement

During your college or universities' fall semester move-in days a "Welcome Team" of at least five chapter members provide information about the NAACP to encourage membership in the NAACP and to register voters.

End Campus Racism

Over the past few years, students of color have reported a dramatic increase in acts of racial discrimination, intolerance, hate crimes and insensitivity amongst different cultures at institutions of higher education. The campaign works to end campus racism.
